

You are invited to attend a Public Meeting for the Red Clay Valley Scenic Byway Design Standards Overlay Project

What: Public Kickoff Meeting for the Red Clay Valley Scenic Byway Design Standards Overlay Project

When: Thursday, February 12, 2015, 6:30 - 9 PM

View Display Boards at 6:30 PM
Followed by a presentation at 7 PM

Where: Ashland Nature Center, 3511 Barley Mill Road

Why: Project partners will discuss the history of the scenic byway, including where it is today; how the standards could be incorporated into the County's Unified Development Code (UDC); and best practices from around the country.

The meeting will also include an opportunity for question and answer, and a discussion of next steps.

If you live, work, or play in the Red Clay Valley Scenic Byway, we want to hear from you!
